

Wax Myrtle

Myrica cerifera

Category: Evergreen

Growth Rate: Moderate

Adaptability: Full sun to partial shade

Size: 20'-25' tall and 8'-10' wide

Description: A native broadleaf evergreen in the bayberry family . Usually requires both male and female for good berry production. Use as a privacy hedge or along streams or ponds for erosion control. Can be pruned, but berries appear on old growth.

